Soviet Russia Denounces Neutrality Pact With Japan

The War Today..

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

GERMANY'S strategic positions on the Western front are being liquidated with amazing rapidity, every hour giving fresh proof that organized Hitlerite resistance on a major scale in that theatre is a thing of the past.

There still remain big jobs for Supreme Commander Eisenhower's forces to do, and among the most important are the liberation of Holland and capture of the Reich's North sea ports of Emden, Bremen and Hamburg. Indications now are that the Boche will try to withdraw from most of Holland but will make a stand in the great commercial ports of Amsterdam and Rotterdam, just as they plan to hang onto their own North Sea harbors.

The point of the German resistance at these places is to deprive the Allies of the use of the ports and thus cause delay and stave off the day of execution a bit.

The Germans are withdrawing, or have withdrawn, many of their troops from Holland, and British forces are smashing northward along the Ems river toward Emden to close the gap along the Dutch-German border through which the Nazis are escaping. Undoubtedly the great majority of the Nazi forces have got out, but the Germans are expected to retain several divisions to make a stand at Rotterdam and Amsterdam.

Garrisons holding these two great Dutch cities will be suicide forces, expected to hang on as long as possible without hope of escape. This has been a favorite trick of the Nazis.

They still are holding several isolated harbors, including Lorient and St. Nazaire, which stood off capture at the time of the invasion of Normandy. Probably the same scheme will be followed at Emden, Bremen, Hamburg and other important North Sea harbors.

The liberation of Holland is doubly important because of the plight of the unfortunate Dutch folk who have been reduced to terrible straits of privation. Much of their country is flooded and the food situation is grave indeed.

From the Canadian forces driving northward into Holland in the Deventer sector, we learn today that apart from all other difficulties, the Boche have been stripping Holland of food and shipping it into Germany. The Hitlerites have been stopping shipments of food from the agricultural areas of Holland to great cities like Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague and have utilized it for their own purposes.

Holland is in dire need of relief. That will be provided at the earliest possible moment, but from the front today comes the warning that Allied forces cannot be expected to liberate the Dutch cities overnight. It may take some time if the Germans carry out their plan of making Dunkerques out of places like Rotterdam and Amsterdam.

Another important reason for clearing Holland is to wipe out launching sites of the V-bombs being sent against London and other British places. That is one of the tasks in which the Canadians now are engaged, and it would appear that great success has been achieved, since for about a week the bombs have ceased to fall on England.

NOTE HANDED TO EMISSARY FROM TOKYO

Moscow Accuses Nation With Helping Germany Fight Russians

London, April 5.—Soviet Russia today denounced its neutrality pact with Japan, accusing Tokyo of helping Germany to war against Russia.

Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov handed a note to the Japanese ambassador at 3 p. m., said the broadcast.

The pact was signed in April, 1941, and whether Russia would denounce it before the opening of the world security conference at San Francisco April 25 had been a subject of speculation.

The Soviet note emphasized at the outset that "the pact of neutrality between the Soviet union and Japan was concluded on April 13, 1941—that is before the attack by Germany on the U. S. S. R. and before the outbreak of war between Japan on the one hand and great Britain and the United States on the other."

"Since that time the situation has radically changed," the note said, "Germany attacked the U. S. S. R. Future Action Uncertain"

The note was handed the Japanese ambassador at 3 p. m., today in the midst of a new Japanese cabinet crisis.

The treaty ordinarily would have run until April, 1946.

The denunciation becomes effective April 13, just 12 days before the opening of the San Francisco conference.

The Moscow announcement said Japan's Ambassador Naotake Sato had "promised to bring the declaration of the Soviet government to the attention of the Japanese government."

There was no indication in the Moscow announcement of Russia's intentions in future relations with Japan. However, Premier Marshal Stalin has publicly described Japan as "an aggressor nation."

Many have expected Russia to denounce the treaty if for no other reason than to gain a free hand in the San Francisco conference discussions of problems concerning the Pacific war.

The pact with Japan was the second neutrality treaty that the Soviet has repudiated in recent days. In terminating the pact with Turkey, however, Russia indicated willingness to negotiate a new relationship.

The note to Tokyo made it clear Stalin has no such intention toward the Japanese.

The neutrality pact was signed at the Kremlin four years ago by Molotov and Yosuke Matsuoka, then Japanese foreign minister.

Border disputes and disagreement over fishing rights had preceded the negotiations.

Eight Weeks Remain For Salem Pupils

High School Calendar Is Crowded With Activities, However

Just eight weeks of school remain for Salem High school students, but a glance at the activities, social and academic, planned during that time reveals that pupils are going to have their busiest days of the year.

High school students will receive their final reports on June 1, but before that time a host of things are on tap for all of them, from Seniors down to Freshmen.

Commencement exercises, climaxing the final week of school, will be held Thursday, May 31. Baccalaureate service will be held in the High school auditorium on Sunday, May 27.

The annual Junior-Senior prom, highlight of the school's social activity, is scheduled May 25.

Brooks contest participants will perform for the final judges in an assembly May 15.

No Recognition Assembly

The annual recognition assembly may be dropped this year, Principal B. G. Ludwig said today, as awards have been presented throughout the year at other assemblies so that students who earned them could wear them during the current year.

Formerly, all athletic awards, club pins and merit badges were distributed at an assembly at the close of the year and students weren't able to wear their awards until the school year closed.

The complete schedule for the balance of the year:

April 5—Assembly, preview of Junior play.

April 9—Assembly, Charles Lampkin, "From The Bosom of the Congo."

April 12—Army special training reserve program tests. (For Senior boys.)

April 12-13—Junior play.

April 18—Assembly, discussion of weekly colleges.

April 20—Association party.

Flanking Erfurt, American Third Army forces exploded a new drive for Leipzig, 130 miles southwest of Berlin. Patton's men drove to within 60 miles of the Czechoslovak border and 180 miles from a junction with Red Army troops to the northeast of Erfurt. Russians, meanwhile, entered Vienna, after toppling Wiener-Neustadt, 23 miles below the Austrian capital. On the northern anchor of Western Front, Montgomery's armies pressed toward the Dutch seacoast.

Jurors Quiz Police In Probe Of Gambling

LISBON, April 5.—The grand jury probe into county vice and gambling was under way Wednesday afternoon when John Richards, Roy Wise and Clyde Boso, East Liverpool patrolmen were examined by the jury.

Witnesses, identified by court-house employees as being connected with various felonies committed in the county in the past three months, were called in the morning. Immediately after the noon recess the jury was closeted with Prosecutor Frank W. Springer for more than an hour. Then followed a call by Jury Commissioner Charles Marietta of Hanover for John Richards, East Liverpool patrolman.

An hour later Roy Wise, East Liverpool patrolman was called. Wise had been called on Tuesday and his return Wednesday indicated that something more than a routine investigation of crimes was on the way.

Richards, Wise and Clyde Boso, another Liverpool policeman, were apparently examined at length by the jury for it was almost 5 o'clock when the jury retired for the night.

Extended Session Seen

Meanwhile many other witnesses who had been called for the afternoon session were told to return to their homes and report Thursday morning.

The fact that this jury refused to act with haste became known when witnesses who had been ordered to report Thursday were moved back to Friday. Courthouse speculation Thursday morning was that the session would last into next week.

More than 50 witnesses have now been subpoenaed, most of them from south county districts. When and if the jury would investigate Wells-ville, Salmville, Salem, Leetonia, Columbiana and other populous sections was anyone's guess.

Mayor Clarence Peters of Wells-ville reported that his city had not been caught in the net and he knew of no subpoenas having been served there.

Walter Hunston, East Palestine mayor, indicated that East Palestine was not involved.

Other Allied Armies Race For Hannover

PARIS, April 5.—The Third army advanced to within 132 miles of Berlin today in the Schlotheim area while other Allies closed up to the Weser river on a wide front 23 miles from Hannover. The Germans were retreating pell-mell toward the Elbe, which flows within 50 miles of the capital.

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, April 5.—The Allies drove up to the Weser river today within 23 miles of the Prussian stronghold of Hannover, which the Germans appeared to be evacuating in a retreat to the Elbe river which flows within 50 miles of Berlin.

The Weser was reached on a 48-mile front from 15 miles north of Minden to the Pled Piper town of Hameln by four divisions of the American Ninth and British Second armies.

First army troops opened fresh attacks to destroy up to 150,000 trapped Germans in the Ruhr, advancing four miles northwest from the eastern end of the encirclement.

Ninth army divisions northeast of the Ruhr advanced as much as 28 miles and captured Herford (36,000), Detmold (16,000), Bad Oeynhaus (8,000) and Neheim (11,000) and cleared completely the difficult Teutoburger passes near by-passed Bielefeld. Eleven hospitals were taken; one contained a general and the military administrator of Muenster, being treated for "mental fatigue."

Allied planes struck through road-jamming columns of Nazis, in flight east to the Elbe, the last river before Berlin.

Hannover, a Prussian rail and industrial center, was immediately threatened. The Germans, too badly staggered to form an effective line along the 240-foot-wide Weser, were falling secondary roads particularly in their run for the Elbe, which flows into the North sea above Hamburg on the west side of the Danish peninsula.

Pilots said the traffic was heavy all the way from the Weser to well beyond Hannover and that the columns were streaming east.

Third Army Speeds On

Armored spearheads of the American Third army, well out on the Thuringian plains, beat down the last 55 miles toward the Saxony rail center of Plauen, near Czechoslovakia, in a drive to bisect Germany and join the Russians. Leipzig was less than 70 miles ahead; the battlefields of Jena were almost in sight.

At Hameln, the Ninth army was within 150 miles of Berlin and 50 of the aircraft center of Brunswick. The Third army was less than 140 from Berlin.

The British fought into the outskirts of Minden, 90 miles southwest of Hamburg and 47 south of the Naval base of Bremen. They had made another breakthrough and swept 25 miles past Osnabrueck in one day to reach the Weser, next to last river before Berlin.

A dispatch from British Second army headquarters last night said the British 11th Armored division had crossed the Weser river north-east of Osnabrueck and plunged on beyond against light opposition.

Clean Cut Nazi Surrender Unlikely, Eisenhower Says

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower has informed President Roosevelt that "a clean-cut military surrender" of the Nazis is improbable.

In a letter to the chief executive, released by the White House today, the Supreme Allied commander in Europe foresaw extensive guerrilla warfare.

He said he was hopeful of launching operations at the proper time that "should partially prevent a guerrilla control of any large area, such as the southern mountain bastion."

On the basis of past performances by German armed forces, Eisenhower said it was likely "a V-E day will come about only by a proclamation on our part rather than by an definite and decisive collapse or surrender of German resistance."

The general visualized a condition which would mean that eventually all areas in which fragments of the German army, particularly paratrooper, Panzer and SS elements may be located, will have to be taken "by the application of or the threat of force." This, he said, would lead to a form of guerrilla warfare which would require a large number of troops to suppress.

Such a proclamation, if it does come, the White House said, probably would be issued by Eisenhower.

"The further this campaign progresses," Eisenhower said, "the more probable it appears that there will never be a clean cut military surrender of the forces on the Western front. Our experience to date is that even when formations as small as a division are disrupted, their fragments continue to fight until surrounded."

HEARING FRIDAY ON ANNEXATION MOVE

LISBON, April 5.—County commissioners will hear Friday an application by residents of Fairfield township, west of Leetonia, for a proposed extension of the Leetonia city limits to include them in that community.

Expected opposition to the petition, signed by most of the residents, is expected from members of the Fairfield township trustees and of the township board of education. Arrangements are already under way, Fairfield claims, to include this district within the fire protection services from Columbiana.

Property values involved amount to nearly $125,000 and the Fairfield township authorities do not wish to lose revenue derived from these places.

KILLING FROST IS PREDICTED TONIGHT

State Weather Forecaster George W. Mindling predicted a "killing frost" tonight with temperatures likely to drop to 28 and 25 degrees in some parts of Ohio by tomorrow.

The mercury slid to 33 here early this morning and brisk winds and snow flurries made Salermites uncomfortable during the day.

The frost will harm fruit trees now in bloom, early victory gardens, and other vegetation in a susceptible stage.

NOTE HANDED TO EMISSARY FROM TOKYO

Moscow Accuses Nation With Helping Germany Fight Russians

London, April 5.—Soviet Russia today denounced its neutrality pact with Japan, accusing Tokyo of helping Germany to war against Russia.

Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov handed a note to the Japanese ambassador at 3 p. m., said the broadcast.

The pact was signed in April, 1941, and whether Russia would denounce it before the opening of the world security conference at San Francisco April 25 had been a subject of speculation.

The Soviet note emphasized at the outset that "the pact of neutrality between the Soviet union and Japan was concluded on April 13, 1941—that is before the attack by Germany on the U. S. S. R., and before the outbreak of war between Japan on the one hand and great Britain and the United States on the other."

"Since that time the situation has radically changed," the note said, "Germany attacked the U. S. S. R. Future Action Uncertain"

The note was handed the Japanese ambassador at 3 p. m., today in the midst of a new Japanese cabinet crisis.

The treaty ordinarily would have run until April, 1946.

The denunciation becomes effective April 13, just 12 days before the opening of the San Francisco conference.

The Moscow announcement said Japan's Ambassador Naotake Saoto had "promised to bring the declaration of the Soviet government to the attention of the Japanese government."

There was no indication in the Moscow announcement of Russia's intentions in future relations with Japan. However, Premier Marshal Stalin has publicly described Japan as "an aggressor nation."

Many have expected Russia to denounce the treaty if for no other reason than to gain a free hand in the San Francisco conference discussions of problems concerning the Pacific war.

The pact with Japan was the second neutrality treaty that the Soviet has repudiated in recent days. In terminating the pact with Turkey, however, Russia indicated willingness to negotiate a new relationship.

The note to Tokyo made it clear Stalin has no such intention toward the Japanese.

The neutrality pact was signed at the Kremlin four years ago by Molotov and Yoeuke Matsukata, then Japanese foreign minister.

Border disputes and disagreement over fishing rights had preceded the negotiations.

The reunion was made through the efforts of Second Lieut. Robert Ketterer, bombardier-navigator with the Ninth Air force based in England. Ketterer went to Reims where he met First Lieut. Jack Ballantine, now a public relations officer with several groups serving under him.

Later Lieut. Ketterer went to Paris where he and Second Lieut. Stanley Bussey, an engineers officer, took in the sights of Gay Paree.

Lieut. Ketterer is former circulation manager for The Salem News. Lieut. Ballantine, former sports editor, and Lieut. Bussey, former printing department manager.

Their addresses are: Lieut. Robert J. Ketterer, 6764 48th, 557th Bomb group sqdn., 387th Bomb group (M), APO 140, care postmaster, New York City.

Lieut. Jack F. Ballantine (C), 585th Bomb sqdn., 394th Bomb group (M), APO 628, care postmaster, New York City.

Other Allied Armies Race For Hannover

PARIS, April 5.—The Third army advanced to within 132 miles of Berlin today in the Schlotheim area while other Allies closed up to the Weser river on a wide front 23 miles from Hannover. The Germans were retreating pell-mell toward the Elbe, which flows within 50 miles of the capital.

PARIS, April 5.—The Allies drove up to the Weser river today within 23 miles of the Prussian stronghold of Hannover, which the Germans appeared to be evacuating in a retreat to the Elbe river which flows within 50 miles of Berlin.

The Weser was reached on a 48-mile front from 15 miles north of Minden to the Pied Piper town of Hamelin by four divisions of the American Ninth and British Second armies.

First army troops opened fresh attacks to destroy up to 150,000 trapped Germans in the Ruhr, advancing four miles northwest from the eastern end of the encirclement.

Ninth army divisions northeast of the Ruhr advanced as much as 28 miles and captured Hefford (26,000), Detmold (16,000), Bad Oeynhaus (8,000) and Neheim (11,000) and cleared completely the difficult Teutoburger passes near by-passed Bielefeld. Eleven hospitals were taken; one contained a general and the military administrator of Muenster, being treated for "mental fatigue."

Allied planes struck through road-jamming columns of Nazis, in flight east to the Elbe, the last river before Berlin.

Hannover, a Prussian rail and industrial center, was immediately threatened. The Germans, too badly staggered to form an effective line along the 240-foot-wide Weser, were filling secondary roads particularly in their run for the Elbe, which flows into the North sea above Hamburg on the west side of the Danish peninsula.

Pilots said the traffic was heavy all the way from the Weser to well beyond Hannover and that the columns were streaming east.

Third Army Speeds On Armored spearheads of the American Third army, well out on the Thuringian plains, beat down the last 55 miles toward the Saxony rail center of Plauen, near Czechoslovakia, in a drive to bisect Germany and join the Russians. Leipzig was less than 70 miles ahead; the battlefields of Jena were almost in sight.

At Hamelin, the Ninth army was within 158 miles of Berlin and 58 of the aircraft center of Brunswick. The Third army was less than 140 from Berlin.

The British fought into the outskirts of Minden, 90 miles southwest of Hamburg and 47 south of the Naval base of Bremen. They had made another breakthrough and swept 25 miles past Osnabrueck in one day to reach the Weser, next to last river before Berlin.

A dispatch from British Second army headquarters last night said the British 11th Armored division had crossed the Weser river north-east of Osnabrueck and plunged on beyond against light opposition.

Clean Cut Nazi Surrender Unlikely, Eisenhower Says

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has informed President Roosevelt that "a clean-cut military surrender" of the Nazis is improbable.

In a letter to the chief executive, released by the White House today, the Supreme Allied commander in Europe foresaw extensive guerrilla warfare.

He said he was hopeful of launching operations at the proper time that "should partially prevent a guerrilla control of any large area, such as the southern mountain bastion."

On the basis of past performance by German armed forces, Eisenhower said it was likely "a V-E day will come about only by a proclamation on our part rather than by an definite and decisive collapse or surrender of German resistance."

The general visualized a condition which would mean that eventually all areas in which fragments of the German army, particularly paratrooper, Panzer and SS elements may be located, will have to be taken "by the application of or the threat of force." This, he said, would lead to a form of guerrilla warfare which would require a large number of troops to suppress.

Such a proclamation, if it does come, the White House said, probably would be issued by Eisenhower.

"The further this campaign progresses," Eisenhower said, "the more probable it appears that there will never be a clean cut military surrender of the forces on the Western front. Our experience to date is that even when formations as small as a division are disrupted, their fragments continue to fight until surrounded."

Trouble Is To Be Expected

Despair over peace prospects in the wake of the newest proof that Russia has its own objectives suggests that most Americans are still being naive about cooperative security.

They still imagine that if they muster all their good intentions, the threat of a future war which would kill and maim their children and destroy their heritage must disappear; or if it doesn't, then someone else is to blame.

Security is not a project of good intentions. It does not even allow good intentions to be taken for granted. Realization that Russian and British realism will continue may prepare us for the San Francisco conference. The shock may be good for us and for the peace prospect. Trouble is to be expected; that should be the first premise. If Americans could see the mote as clearly as they can see the beam, they would realize that they are not alone in the capacity for being shocked, furthermore.

Peace will not be fabricated out of sweetness and light. We have passed through the ladies' club approach to the problem. Russia is going to make demands; so is Britain; so is the United States. All the other nations are going to make demands—and all the demands are going to be played off against each other in quest of a settlement. Feelings will be hurt and pride injured. But that will not mean peace has been made unattainable. Only the naive can believe in international security by pious resolutions. Whatever mistakes may be made this time, that one should be eliminated at the outset.

30 Days Hath April

If United Mine Workers and bituminous operators were unable to agree with each other and with the government during 31 days in March, it's unlikely they will make much progress during 30 days in April. The postponement of the shutdown threatened when the existing contract expired at the end of last month merely puts off for another month the customary climax of negotiations for a new contract in the bituminous industry. A work stoppage is still threatened.

Despite the special need in wartime for an uninterrupted schedule of coal production, work stoppages occurred both in 1941 and 1943, the two previous occasions when contracts expired. The extension of the deadline to the end of April is a reprieve, not a release. There is no evident inclination on the part of either the operators or John L. Lewis, speaking for the miners, to do in the next 30 days what they did not do in the last 31 days.

Meanwhile, all over the country plans are going forward to make an equitable distribution of the existing coal supply next winter. A national shortage of coal is one of the wartime problems; any interruption of production will aggravate what already is a serious prospect for next winter. Even with complete assurance that not a single day's time would be lost needlessly, the coal industry would not be able to supply the fuel needed to avert a minor disaster at the least, a major disaster if anything less than the maximum tonnage of coal is produced before next winter.

Test Case

It has been evident for a long time that the Roosevelt administration's insistence on sweeping authority over civilian manpower had become a test case—a showdown between the authoritarians and non-authoritarians in the national government. The final disposition of the manpower bill in the Senate marks a defeat for the authoritarians. Already weakened by a series of compromises, the bill they wanted failed in its final vote.

They will claim that their defeat represents a defeat for the whole country; that cannot be proved. The fact is that the case for the strong law they wanted never was able to win converts because they failed to convince either Congress or the country that such a law would increase war production by so much as a single washer, bolt, or grommet. America's war production potentialities already had been realized when the proposal was made. It simply was not logical to ask for authority to do by means of greater government compulsion what already had been done without such authority.

It did not give the government authority to conscript civilians, not because it chose to cripple the war effort, as the administration charged, but because it chose to sustain the principle of voluntary effort on which the war effort was made.

Devastation Unlimited

Many letters from soldiers in Europe and virtually all news dispatches on the European war mention the incredible devastation of inhabited places by aerial bombs and heavy artillery.

What is left standing when the bombers are through is powdered into rubble as the artillery comes within range. Photographs of Cologne, Le Havre, Aachen and dozens of other European towns show nothing left but a vast expanse of ruins.

Yet, somewhat strangely, it only has begun to down on those who have been observing this grim aspect of modern war that it is something distinctive and new. In ancient times, similar devastation, such as the complete destruction of Carthage, was exception. Today it is commonplace.

There are some European cities that never will be rebuilt. Many will be rebuilt in miniature. Dozens will be starved by creeping poverty. The cumulative effect of Allied bombing in Germany may be to make it literally impossible for that country ever to recover; it simply will lack physical means to regain its position. The Saar and the Ruhr, which have felt the full force of modern war, may never approach their potentialities again. Certainly nothing is more shortsighted than to imagine that the vast increase in devastation made possible by aerial bombing is not going to be balanced by an equal increase in the poverty left in the wake of war.

WHILE cherished ideals, ambitions and plans are under excellent stimuli for reaching toward high goals of achievement and satisfaction, yet all along the way there may be undercurrents determined to thwart, harrow and defeat. This frustrating force has deep and subtle elements, possibly sinister and malefic, therefore a straightforward, progressive and worthy marshalling of the resources, energies and high hopes should be brought on all tricky and intangible circumstances. Rational, legitimate and well-formulated plans, assisted by Lady Luck, should win out in the long run.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are likely to feel the urge of exalted ambitions and aspirations, with practical, productive and progressive aims to reach high goals in business, finance, professional and social life, with security, pleasure and sound purpose its objective. All these ends are under splendid stimulus for eventual success, although beset by treachery, sinister and subtle efforts at craft, enmity, betrayal and malice, probably from secret sources.

With honest purpose, integrity, sound tactics and wise counsel from influential persons, deep laid schemes may be averted, and success, happiness and private contacts bringing gratification and due rewards.

A child born on this day will have advanced ideals and ambitions, with ability to achieve high goals against sinister and subtle undercurrents. It may attain high and honored place in its outstanding profession.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Diet Effects On High Blood Pressure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

In persons with high blood pressure it is not unusual for damage to the kidneys to occur as a result. A condition called chronic nephritis, which is a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, often may develop. A variety of treatments has been utilized for this condition of high blood pressure with chronic kidney disease.

Recently a new type of diet has been employed, and it seems to have met with a great deal of success. The diet consists of rice, fruit juices, yeast, and preparations to supply iron and all of the necessary vitamins which the doctor will prescribe.

As the patient's condition improves, the physician modifies the diet by adding vegetables (with the exception of beans and peas) eggs, and small amounts of beef, liver, or chicken.

Hospital Treatment

Unless the patient is informed of the importance of this diet, there may be certain objections to it. To begin with, it is monotonous. They may complain that it does not taste good, and it must be continued for a long period of time before results are obtained.

Furthermore, the patient cannot add foods to the diet according to his tastes. Then, too, it is best, as a rule, to have the patient in the hospital for a period of time until he becomes regulated to the diet. Nevertheless, in view of the good results obtained, all of these objections may be ignored.

Doctor Walter Kempner of Duke University School of Medicine used this diet in treating 150 patients. Included in the 150 were 18 who were critically ill when the diet was started. All of these 18 succumbed to their disorder. The diet failed to give any beneficial results in 41 cases but about three-fourths of the total group were aided to a great extent.

In many instances a decrease in the blood pressure was noted. The amount of protein in the blood was reduced to normal levels. In chronic kidney disease the blood proteins are often elevated above normal. Furthermore, it was noted that in many of the patients who had enlarged hearts, a decrease in the size of the heart resulted.

Frequently, patients with high blood pressure have bleeding into the back part of the eyeball, known as retinal hemorrhage. Furthermore, there may be swelling of the tissue around the point where the nerve of the eye enters the eyeball. It was noted that with the rice diet these conditions improved and a number of those patients who were blind as a result of the hemorrhage regained their eyesight to such an extent that they were able to read fine print.

Lower Tappan Dam Water To Restore Cadiz Road

Congressman Earl R. Lewis today announced that the use of U. S. Route 250 west of Cadiz, which for some time has been cut off by the impounding of flood waters in the Tappan dam, will be restored within ten days.

The congressman received a complaint from a user of the route, objecting to the blocking of the highway by the impounded flood waters in Tappan dam and he took the complaint up immediately with Maj. Gen. Reibold, chief of Army engineers, who has charge of the dam. This morning assurance was received from Gen. Reibold that the road will be cleared in 10 days.

It did not give the government authority to conscript civilians, not because it chose to cripple the war effort, as the administration charged, but because it chose to sustain the principle of voluntary effort on which the war effort was made.

Devastation Unlimited

Many letters from soldiers in Europe and virtually all news dispatches on the European war mention the incredible devastation of inhabited places by aerial bombs and heavy artillery.

What is left standing when the bombers are through is powdered into rubble as the artillery comes within range. Photographs of Cologne, Le Havre, Aachen and dozens of other European towns show nothing left but a vast expanse of ruins.

Yet, somewhat strangely, it only has begun to down on those who have been observing this grim aspect of modern war that it is something distinctive and new. In ancient times, similar devastation, such as the complete destruction of Carthage, was exception. Today it is commonplace.

There are some European cities that never will be rebuilt. Many will be rebuilt in miniature. Dozens will be starved by creeping poverty. The cumulative effect of Allied bombing in Germany may be to make it literally impossible for that country ever to recover; it simply will lack physical means to regain its position. The Saar and the Ruhr, which have felt the full force of modern war, may never approach their potentialities again. Certainly nothing is more shortsighted than to imagine that the vast increase in devastation made possible by aerial bombing is not going to be balanced by an equal increase in the poverty left in the wake of war.

The Stars Say

For Friday, April 6.

WHILE cherished ideals, ambitions and plans are under excellent stimuli for reaching toward high goals of achievement and satisfaction, yet all along the way there may be undercurrents determined to thwart, harrow and defeat. This frustrating force has deep and subtle elements, possibly sinister and malefic, therefore a straightforward, progressive and worthy marshalling of the resources, energies and high hopes should be brought on all tricky and intangible circumstances. Rational, legitimate and well-formulated plans, assisted by Lady Luck, should win out in the long run.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are likely to feel the urge of exalted ambitions and aspirations, with practical, productive and progressive aims to reach high goals in business, finance, professional and social life, with security, pleasure and sound purpose its objective. All these ends are under splendid stimulus for eventual success, although beset by treachery, sinister and subtle efforts at craft, enmity, betrayal and malice, probably from secret sources.

With honest purpose, integrity, sound tactics and wise counsel from influential persons, deep laid schemes may be averted, and success, happiness and private contacts bringing gratification and due rewards.

A child born on this day will have advanced ideals and ambitions, with ability to achieve high goals against sinister and subtle undercurrents. It may attain high and honored place in its outstanding profession.

It will help the hog shortage if no one tries to make one of himself!

Hitler is fast coming to the end of his rope—and we hope we're right on that "rope" angle!

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Diet Effects On High Blood Pressure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

In persons with high blood pressure, it is not unusual for damage to the kidneys to occur as a result. A condition called chronic nephritis, which is a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, often may develop. A variety of treatments has been utilized for this condition of high blood pressure with chronic kidney disease.

Recently a new type of diet has been employed, and it seems to have met with a great deal of success. The diet consists of rice, fruit juices, sugar, and preparations to supply iron and all of the necessary vitamins which the doctor will prescribe.

As the patient's condition improves, the physician modifies the diet by adding vegetables (with the exception of beans and peas) eggs, and small amounts of beef, liver, or chicken.

Hospital Treatment

Unless the patient is informed of the importance of this diet, there may be certain objections to it. To begin with, it is monotonous. They may complain that it does not taste good, and it must be continued for a long period of time before results are obtained.

Lower Tappan Dam Water To Restore Cadiz Road

Congressman Earl R. Lewis today announced that the use of U. S. Route 250 west of Cadiz, which for some time has been cut off by the impounding of flood waters in the Tappan dam, will be restored within ten days.

The congressman received a complaint from a user of the route, objecting to the blocking of the highway by the impounded flood waters in Tappan dam and he took the complaint up immediately with Maj. Gen. Reybold, chief of Army engineers, who has charge of the dam. This morning assurance was received from Gen. Reybold that the road will be cleared in 10 days.

Furthermore, the patient cannot add foods to the diet according to his tastes. Then, too, it is best, as a rule, to have the patient in the hospital for a period of time until he becomes regulated to the diet. Nevertheless, in view of the good results obtained, all of these objections may be ignored.

Dr. Walter Kempner of Duke University School of Medicine used this diet in treating 150 patients. Included in the 150 were 18 who were critically ill when the diet was started. All of these 18 succumbed to their disorder. The diet failed to give any beneficial results in 41 cases but about three-fourths of the total group were aided to a great extent.

In many instances a decrease in the blood pressure was noted. The amount of protein in the blood was reduced to normal levels. In chronic kidney disease the blood proteins are often elevated above normal. Furthermore, it was noted that in many of the patients who had enlarged hearts, a decrease in the size of the heart resulted.

Frequently, patients with high blood pressure have bleeding into the back part of the eyeball, known as retinal hemorrhage. Furthermore, there may be swelling of the tissue around the point where the nerve of the eye enters the eyeball. It was noted that with the rice diet these conditions improved and a number of those patients who were blind as a result of the hemorrhage regained their eyesight to such an extent that they were able to read fine print.

Of course a person on a diet of this type must be kept under the watchful eye of the physician because the diet does not supply all of the necessary food parts. The physician can make such changes in the diet as he deems necessary in light of the patient's reactions to it.

Death's BRIGHT DIAMONDS

by Lionel Mosher

XXVI

"Times of stress the eye roves, and mine roved right into a pair of yellow spats under a too long overcoat that covered an unpleasantly round little man—Mr. P. A. X. himself. He held one hand eloquently suggestive in his pocket. Booker slid the gun down my back and thrust me towards the chair. I sat down with Booker's pistol in-cold on the back of my neck. Peter A. X. gave me a weak unilluminative smile.

"Where," he said, "are the gems?"

"What gems?" I asked.

His lips drew straight over that meaningless smile. His voice became silky. "I am told," he said, "that you have a peculiar sense of honor. The Ostermann diamonds are mine. I bought them. And I propose to have them."

"No dice," I said.

The pistol muzzle bored into my neck and Peter A. X. seemed to swell at the veins.

"I mean I haven't got them," I spread my hands, "I haven't the faintest notion of where they are."

"Listen," Booker leaned close to my ear. "Last night Phineas Hudson came to The Ledges, put a pistol to my head, just as I'm putting one to yours now, and relieved me of the Ostermann diamonds."

"So you had them! It was you who slugged me in the basement corridor?"

"Trent, I'm warning you—"

"And you killed Phineas Hudson?"

For an instant all sound, all motion, all thought, seemed suspended. Xavier and Booker exchanged glances and I saw the gleam of distrust in the former's eyes.

"Booker," Peter A. X. Xavier's tone was a mere whisper and his eyes were dark as bitter pools. "You haven't lied to me?"

I could not see Booker's face, but the pressure on my neck relaxed.

"Xavier," he said, "don't be a fool. Would I stick my head in the noose here—now?"

"For five million dollars," Xavier's tongue slithered lovingly over the words, "you would do anything. So would I."

"Then we'd better get busy," said Booker.

For one long moment Xavier surveyed him, then nodded briefly and the pistol came away from my neck. I moved my head gently, caught the tense look in Xavier's eyes, then felt the blinding flash of pain as Booker's pistol butt crashed down on my skull.

There was a pin-ball game going on inside my skull and bright tinklings, in my brain, accompanied every movement of my head.

"Migraine," I thought to myself and tasted the bitterness on my tongue. I opened my eyes and looked straight into Xavier's eyes that were curiously like a surgeon's. Deliberately, I tried to put my thumb in the very center of one eye, but my hands were fastened behind me through the slats of a very uncomfortable straight-backed chair. The dank odor of harbor and sea moss came up through the cracks in the floor and against the wall.

Gutknecht Choked, Robbed By Bandits Who Get $15

YOUNGSTOWN, April 5.—William J. Gutknecht, 62, was choked and dragged 50 feet into Wick park late last night by two bandits, who robbed him.

Gutknecht, general manager of the Arc Engraving Co., said he was grabbed from behind by an assailant who held his hand over Gutknecht's mouth. A second robber went through his pockets and stole $15.

Detectives believe the bandits are the pair which, an hour earlier, severely beat William F. Tyrrell, 67, a roofing salesman, after they had dragged him behind a billboard.

Tyrrell was treated at the hospital for a fracture of the right jaw and lacerations of the lips. Several of his teeth were knocked out when the robbers kicked him in the face. They stole $35 and a check for $1,045, made out to the county treasurer.

Gen. Eisenhower's Fan Mail Equals That Of Frank Sinatra

By JULES B. GRAD

Stars and Stripes Writer

SUPREME COMMANDER'S HEADQUARTERS, April 5.—Gen. Eisenhower receives almost as many letters as Frank Sinatra.

From every corner of the free world people write for autographs and pictures. One little boy asked for a "genuine Tiger tank." Hundreds of letters pour into his headquarters every week. Scores are rain-drenched and caked with mud from routine troops in Germany.

The Supreme commander takes time off from running a war to answer each one.

The general has many correspondents such as Mary Louise Koehn, of Dayton, Ohio, who is one of his favorites. The little girl has been writing Eisenhower since 1942, when she wrote:

"I read in the papers where we should adopt boys in the service. I would like to adopt you."

The general was then neck-deep in logistics. The invasion of Africa was almost set. But he wrote back that he was flattered. He asked his "adopted mother"—age 13—to keep writing.

In one of her letters, Mary told the general her father was somewhere in the European theater. One February day, Maj. Koehn walked into the commander's office. Eisenhower later wrote Mary:

"We had a nice chat. We talked a lot about you. Your father was in fine form and I am delighted that we met. I am afraid this must be a short note, as I haven't much time for myself these days."

Eisenhower sends autographs to any one in the armed forces who requests them, but only to civilians actively helping the Allies win the war.

A second lieutenant and a staff sergeant handle the mail by putting in nine-hour days, seven days a week.

Youngsters write for German helmets, uniforms, and Lager pistols. The general replies that he cannot send such enemy material because it's the property of the government.

The Supreme commander, said Staff Sgt. Sue Sarafan of Detroit, Mich., probably receives more gifts than any other general. All except those of a personal nature or from old friends, are turned over to hospitals for combat casualties.

When Bing Crosby visited the Supreme commander in Normandy last September, he asked the general if he'd like anything sent back from the states.

"Golly, Bing, replied the general, "I read in the papers where we should adopt boys in the service. I would like to adopt you."

"I sure would like some hominy for Christmas."

When Crosby returned to Hollywood he mentioned the request during a broadcast. A few weeks later hominy started raining—or whatever hominy does—on to supreme headquarters. It came in cigarette cartons and wooden containers. The general and his staff looked around for a place to move SHAEF. But the matter was remedied. The hospital patients never lacked hominy.

The general replies that he cannot send such enemy material because it's the property of the government.

XXVI

In times of stress the eye roves, and mine roved right into a pair of yellow spats under a too long overcoat that covered an unpleasantly round little man—Mr. P. A. X. himself. He held one hand eloquently suggestive in his pocket. Booker slid the gun down my back and thrust me towards my chair. I sat down with Booker's pistol ice-cold on the back of my neck. Peter A. Xavier gave me a bleak unilluminative smile.

"Where," he said, "are the gems?"

"What gems?" I asked.

His lips drew straight over that meaningless smile. His voice became silky. "I am told," he said, "that you have a peculiar sense of honor. The Ostermann diamonds are mine. So you had them! It was you who slugged me in the basement corridor!"

"Trent, I'm warning you—"

"And you killed Phineas Hadson!"

For an instant all sound, all motion, all thought, seemed suspended. Xavier and Booker exchanged glances and I saw the gleam of distrust in the former's eyes.

"Booker," Peter A. Xavier's tone was a mere whisper and his eyes were dark, bitter pools. "You haven't lied to me?"

"I could not see Booker's face, but the pressure on my neck relaxed."

"Xavier," he said, "don't be a fool. Would I stick my head in the noose here—now?"

"For five million dollars," Xavier's tongue slithered lovingly over the words, "you would do anything. So would I."

"Then we'd better get busy," said Booker.

For one long moment Xavier surveyed him, then nodded briefly and the pistol came away from my neck. I moved my head gently, caught the tense look in Xavier's eyes, then felt the blinding flash of pain as Booker's pistol butt crashed down on my skull.

There was a pin-ball game going on inside my skull and bright tinklings in my brain, accompanied every movement of my head.

"Migraine," I thought to myself and tasted the bitterness on my tongue. I opened my eyes and looked straight into Xavier's eyes that were curiously like a sturgeon's. Deliberately, I tried to put my thumb in the very center of one eye, but my hands were fastened behind me through the clats of a very uncomfortable straight-backed chair. The dank odor of harbor and sea moss came up through the cracks in the floor and against the wall.

Gutknecht Choked, Robbed By Bandits Who Get $15

YOUNGSTOWN, April 5.—William J. Gutknecht, 62, was choked and dragged 50 feet into Wick park late last night by two bandits, who robbed him.

Gutknecht, general manager of the Arc Engraving Co., said he was grabbed from behind by an assailant who held his hand over Gutknecht's mouth. A second robber went through his pockets and stole $15.

Detectives believe the bandits are the pair which an hour earlier severely beat William F. Tyrrell, 67, a roofing salesman, after they had dragged him behind a billboard.

Tyrrell was treated at the hospital for a fracture of the right jaw and lacerations of the lips. Several of his teeth were knocked out when the robbers kicked him in the face. They stole $35 and a check for $1,045, made out to the county treasurer.

"I," replied Xavier sucking his hand, "should like to make sure."

Xavier came closer. I tensed. Those fish eyes had a glaze of ice over them. I teetered the chair a bit with my toes and kicked as I went over backward. I missed his chin by an eyelash and lay on my back unable to rise.

Gen. Eisenhower's Fan Mail Equals That Of Frank Sinatra

By JULES B. GRAD

Stars and Stripes Writer

SUPREMACY COMMANDER'S HEADQUARTERS, April 5.—Gen. Eisenhower receives almost as many letters as Frank Sinatra.

From every corner of the free world people write for autographs and pictures. One little boy asked for a "genuine Tiger tank." Hundreds of letters pour into his headquarters every week. Scores are rain-drenched and caked with mud from routine troops in Germany.

The Supreme commander takes time off from running a war to answer each one.

The general has many correspondents such as Mary Louise Koehn, of Dayton, Ohio, who is one of his favorites. The little girl has been writing Eisenhower since 1942, when she wrote:

"I read in the papers where we should adopt boys in the service. I would like to adopt you."

The general was then neck-deep in logistics. The invasion of Africa was almost set. But he wrote back that he was flattered. He asked his "adopted mother"—age 13—to keep writing.

In one of her letters, Mary told the general her father was somewhere in the European theater. One February day, Maj. Koehn walked into the commander's office. Eisenhower later wrote Mary:

Two Aides Handle Mail

"We had a nice chat. We talked a lot about you. Your father was in fine form and I am delighted that we met. I am afraid this must be a short note, as I haven't much time for myself these days."

Eisenhower sends autographs to any one in the armed forces who requests them, but only to civilians actively helping the Allies win the war.

SENATORS VOTE EXTRA FUNDS FOR OHIO'S SCHOOLS

By E. E. EASTERLY

COLUMBUS, April 5.—A fight to keep the budget balanced was on Gov. Frank J. Lausche's hands today after the Ohio senate disregarded his recommendations and voted an extra $6,780,000 for public schools.

The 1945-46 budget of $425,069,663 included a proposed appropriation of $104,220,000 for operating expenses in the school foundation program, the device by which the state guarantees aid to local school districts.

The senate yesterday passed, 27 to 4, a bill providing $111,000,000 for the schools. If the house should add its approval, four courses would be open for keeping the state's overall expenditure in line with revenue:

1. Lausche could veto the bill;

2. The legislature or governor could cut $6,780,000 from recommended appropriations of other departments to make up for the schools' increase;

3. The legislature could dip into the $72,500,000 in surplus funds which Lausche suggests be set aside for post-war emergencies; or

4. Revenue of the state might exceed the governor's estimates to the extent of covering the schools' extra allotment.

May Cut Elsewhere

Gov. Lausche told newspapermen he thought course No. 2 would be chosen. While he feels the estimates of revenue are extremely liberal, some senators think income might run $10,000,000 higher than the governor figures.

The governor is confident the legislature will adhere to his recommendation for the schools.

"I feel quite certain," he said, "that upon careful examination of all the facts and figures, it will be found that the amount I have recommended is fair and reasonable."

School finance is one of the most complicated issues in the legislature, and there is disagreement even about how much the state gave the schools for operating expenses in the 1943-44 biennium.

The department of finance reported the subsidy provided in 1943-44 for current operating expenses totaled $102,700,000. On this basis, the bill passed by the senate contemplates an increase of $8,300,000.

Last year the legislature appropriated an extra $8,000,000 for the 1944-45 school year. Sen. Albert L. Daniels (R) of Greenfield, co-author of the current school bill, contends the entire eight million was to be spent last year. Gov. Lausche takes the position that $4,600,000 of the amount was to be spent in 1945.

Not Sufficient, Says Williams

Therefore, the governor holds that the actual outlay for the 1943-44 biennium was really $397,759,937, that adding the left-over $4,000,000 to the Daniels bill makes available $115,027,000 for 1945 and 1946, an increase of $18,000,000 over the previous biennium.

Daniels' position is that the true yardstick for school needs is the $55,246,000 which the legislature appropriated for 1944 (including all the extra $8,000,000); that if the same rate were continued for the 1945-46 biennium, the total would be $110,492,000, and that his proposal of $111,000,000 is just about $500,000 in excess of the 1944 rate of state school support.

Opposition to the Daniels bill was voiced in the senate only by Sen. William M. Boyd (D) of Cleveland, who described the amount as excessive but said few senators dared oppose the measure because the school interests backing it constituted the "most powerful group" in the legislature.

Sen. Joseph T. Williamson (D) of East Liverpool said the $111,000,000 was not sufficient.

Farmers of County Urged To Raise More Chickens

Columbiana county farmers are urged by the county AAA chairman, Clifford F. Shaw, to increase chicken meat production as quickly as possible. The county office has received word from the War Food Administration that greatly increased quantities of poultry meat are needed this year, particularly for military hospitals.

If orders for extra chicks are placed immediately, some of the "birds" can be ready for market by midsummer, says Shaw. It is especially important that chickens be marketed before October, when the seasonal increase in fowl and turkey processing begins.

Shaw adds that this should prove a favorable time for raising chickens as feed supplies are ample at this time and probably feed prices will average slightly lower, while wholesale process of chickens are at ceilings.

Military requirements alone for chickens are about double the amount purchased last year. All canned chicken production is being purchased for military use.

SENATORS VOTE EXTRA FUNDS FOR OHIO'S SCHOOLS

By E. E. EASTERLY

COLUMBUS, April 5.—A fight to keep the budget balanced was on Gov. Frank J. Lausche's hands today after the Ohio senate disregarded his recommendations and voted an extra $6,780,000 for public schools.

The 1945-46 budget of $425,069,693 included a proposed appropriation of $104,220,000 for operating expenses in the school foundation program, the device by which the state guarantees aid to local school districts.

The senate yesterday passed, 27 to 4, a bill providing $111,000,000 for the schools. If the house should add its approval, four courses would be open for keeping the state's overall expenditure in line with revenue:

1. Lausche could veto the bill; 2. The legislature or governor could cut $6,780,000 from recommended appropriations of other departments to make up for the schools' increase;

3. The legislature could dip into the $72,500,000 in surplus funds which Lausche suggests be set aside for post-war emergencies, or

4. Revenue of the state might exceed the governor's estimates to the extent of covering the schools' extra allotment.

May Cut Elsewhere

Gov. Lausche told newspapermen he thought course No. 2 would be chosen. While he feels the estimates of revenue are extremely liberal, some senators think income might run $13,000,000 higher than the governor figures.

The governor is confident the legislature will adhere to his recommendation for the schools.

"I feel quite certain," he said, "that upon careful examination of all the facts and figures, it will be found that the amount I have recommended is fair and reasonable."

School finance is one of the most complicated issues in the legislature, and there is disagreement even about how much the state gave the schools for operating expenses in the 1943-44 biennium.

The department of finance reported the subsidy provided in 1943-44 for current operating expenses totaled $102,700,000. On this basis, the bill passed by the senate contemplates an increase of $8,300,000.

Last year the legislature appropriated an extra $8,000,000 for the 1944-45 school year. Sen. Albert L. Daniels (R) of Greenfield, co-author of the current school bill, contends the entire eight million was to be spent last year. Gov. Lausche takes the position that $4,000,000 of the amount was to be spent in 1945.

Not Sufficient, Says Williams

Therefore, the governor holds that the actual outlay for the 1943-44 biennium was really $397,759,937; that adding the left-over $4,000,000 to the Daniels bill makes available $115,037,000 for 1945 and 1946, an increase of $18,000,000 over the previous biennium.

Daniels' position is that the true yardstick for school needs is the $53,346,000 which the legislature appropriated for 1944 (including all the extra $8,000,000); that if the same rate were continued for the 1945-46 biennium, the total would be $110,492,000, and that his proposal of $111,000,000 is just about $500,000 in excess of the 1944 rate of state school support.

Opposition to the Daniels bill was voiced in the senate only by Sen. William M. Boyd (D) of Cleveland, who described the amount as excessive but said few senators dared oppose the measure because the school interests backing it constituted the "most powerful group" in the legislature.

Sen. Joseph T. Williamson (D) of East Liverpool said the $111,000,000 was not sufficient.

Jap Fire Slows Up Yanks On Okinawa

(By Associated Press)
GUAM, April 5.—Army units driving toward the Okinawa island capital of Naha have been slowed by stiffening Japanese resistance while Marines on the north side of the American wedge worked forward from three to five miles virtually unopposed.

Heavy fire from well organized Japanese units yesterday put the brakes on the 24th corps drive toward Naha, limited gains on the southwestern coast to 2,000 yards, and stopped the 7th division push on the southeast coast after an advance of only 500 yards.

The 24th corps units were within 3,000 yards of Machinato airstrip and four miles from Naha. The southeast drive reached the vicinity of Nakagusuku after overrunning several entrenchments and fortified points.

Marine Third Amphibious corps forces extended their northern lines from three to five miles.

Yank forces control more than 80 square miles, or one sixth of the island.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 5.—The stock market today stumbled over the good war news and, while casualties generally were not severe and selling far from urgent, the averages recorded their first decline in seven successive sessions.

Near closing losses ranged from fractions to more than a point.

Prominent on the retreat were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Boeing, Eastern Air Lines, Western Union "A", General Electric and J. C. Penney.

Stops Train, Is Fined

MANFIELD, April 5.—Joseph P. Foley of Detroit, Mich., wanted to leave a Pennsylvania passenger train here, so he pulled what he thought was the signal cord. It was an emergency air brake which stopped the train suddenly, shaking up several passengers.

He was fined $50 in municipal court on a charge of "interfering with efficient operation of a safety device on a common carrier."

Form Chemical Company

wireless today that the 11th armored division "which crossed the Weser-Ems canal yesterday after capturing three bridges intact, now was seven miles northwest of Minden." The Weser curves to the northeast at Minden. There was no confirmation at Supreme headquarters of the reported Weser river crossing.

Large cities toppled; more were on the verge of capture.

Seized late yesterday were Kassel (217,000), Gotha (48,000), Suhl (16,000), Hengelo (40,000) and Waltrip.

Tighten Ruhr Trap

The Ninth army, sending four infantry divisions to crush the northern side of the Ruhr box where up to 150,000 Nazis and perhaps Field Marshal Albert Kesselring are trapped, fought into Soest and battled the last defenders of Hamm. They moved five miles from Dortmund (537,000) on two sides.

The last Germans were being beaten out of Wuerzburg (108,617) and Heilbronn (60,000) by the Seventh army, which fought less than 34 miles from Nuernberg (431,000).

The French fought beyond captured Karlsruhe 40 within 20 miles of Stuttgart (460,000).

The Third army mopped up many by-passed pockets and cities left behind in its advances to within 58 miles of Czechoslovakia and 160 of Russian lines.

Eisenach (45,000) and Mulhausen were entered. The Third army captured 16,454 prisoners yesterday. In two weeks, Supreme headquarters said, 280,000 Nazis have surrendered.

The British fought heavily to clear the Ems river town of Lingen, 48 miles from an inlet of the North sea. It appeared probable that much of German army group "H" in Holland had escaped the closing trap during the last four days.

The Canadian First army immediately menaced the Dutch city of Arnhem (89,000) and pressed toward the Zuider Zee, to cut across supply routes to the V-bomb launching platforms between the Hague and Rotterdam.

Gen Patton's Third army, more than 215 miles inside Germany, spent much of its energy consolidating gains of the past 14 days, in which 63,406 prisoners have been taken by this army alone.

had long ago cleaned house and he did not expect any trouble there.

Lisbon, long free from commercialized gambling, refused to become worried over the examination.

An additional case was added to the 17 now on the grand jury docket when the assault and battery charge against James Vaughn, 18, of near Pine Lake on Route 7 was referred to the jurors.

Jap Fire Slows Up Yanks On Okinawa

(By Associated Press)

GUAM, April 5.—Army units driving toward the Okinawa island capital of Naha have been slowed by stiffening Japanese resistance while Marines on the north side of the American wedge worked forward from three to five miles virtually unopposed.

Heavy fire from well organized Japanese units yesterday put the brakes on the 24th corps drive toward Naha, limited gains on the southwestern coast to 2,000 yards, and stopped the 7th division push on the southeast coast after an advance of only 500 yards.

The 24th corps units were within 3,000 yards of Machinato airstrip and four miles from Naha. The southeast drive reached the vicinity of Nakagusuku after overrunning several entrenchments and fortified points.

Marine Third Amphibious corps forces extended their northern lines from three to five miles.

Yank forces control more than 80 square miles, or one sixth of the island.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 5.—The stock market today stumbled over the good war news and, while casualties generally were not severe and selling far from urgent, the averages recorded their first decline in seven successive sessions.

Near closing losses ranged from fractions to more than a point.

Prominent on the retreat were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Boeing, Eastern Air Lines, Western Union "A", General Electric and J. C. Penney.

Stops Train, Is Fined

MANSFIELD, April 5.—Joseph P. Foley of Detroit, Mich., wanted to leave a Pennsylvania passenger train here, so he pulled what he thought was the signal cord. It was an emergency air brake which stopped the train suddenly, shaking up several passengers.

He was fined $50 in municipal court on a charge of "interfering with efficient operation of a safety device on a common carrier."

wireless today that the 11th armored division "which crossed the Weser-Ems canal yesterday after capturing three bridges intact, now was seven miles northwest of Minden." The Weser curves to the northeast at Minden. There was no confirmation at Supreme headquarters of the reported Weser river crossing.

Large cities toppled; more were on the verge of capture.

Seized late yesterday were Kassel (217,000), Gotha (48,000), Suhl (16,000), Hengelo (40,000) and Waltrup.

Tighten Ruhr Trap

The Ninth army, sending four infantry divisions to crush the northern side of the Ruhr box where up to 150,000 Nazis and perhaps Field Marshal Albert Kesselring are trapped, fought into Soest and battled the last defenders of Hamm. They moved five miles from Dortmund (537,000) on two sides.

The last Germans were being beaten out of Wuerzburg (108,617) and Heilbronn (60,000) by the Seventh army, which fought less than 34 miles from Nuernberg (431,000). The French fought beyond captured Karlsruhe 40 within 20 miles of Stuttgart (460,000).

The Third army mopped up many by-passed pockets and cities left behind in its advances to within 58 miles of Czechoslovakia and 160 of Russian lines.

Eisenach (45,000) and Mulhausen were entered. The Third army captured 16,454 prisoners yesterday. In two weeks, Supreme headquarters said, 280,000 Nazis have surrendered.

The British fought beyond captured Karlsruhe 40 within 20 miles of Stuttgart (460,000).

The Canadian First army imminently menaced the Dutch city of Arnhem (89,000) and pressed toward the Zuider Zee, to cut across supply routes to the V-bomb launching platforms between the Hague and Rotterdam.

Gen. Patton's Third army, more than 215 miles inside Germany, spent much of its energy consolidating gains of the past 14 days, in which 63,406 prisoners have been taken by this army alone.

Uncle Sam Continues To Hit Body Blows At Baseball Clubs

First Baseman Etten Now Slated For Army, Dimming Joe McCarthy's Flag Hope

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 5.—Uncle Sam continued to shape the 1945 pennant races today as threatened loss of first baseman Nick Etten, last year's American league home run champion, struck a body blow at the hopes of the New York Yankees.

Etten's reclassification to 1-A was hardly a surprise to Joe McCarthy. The Yank skipper had expected such tidings and planned accordingly, but coming on top of similar news on Oscar Grimes and Johnny Lindell's imminent induction, it may force considerable shuffling.

If Etten and Lindell go the Yankee power of bygone days will be a one-man act by George Stinnett, 4-F but also up for re-examination. If Grimes also goes, McCarthy will be up against it for a first sacker.

Emerson Rorer's six shutout innings in yesterday's 8-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox must have been some comfort to Marse Joe, whose title chances lean heavily on the pitching staff.

Other training camp items: Boston Red Sox—Joe Cronin impressed by ground-covering ability of Ben Steiner, shifted the rookie to shortstop. Skeeter Newsome will go to third and Jack Tobin to second.

Boston Braves—Bob Coleman having trouble finding best outfield trio of many capable performers. Arrival of Elmer Nieman sent ball-hawk Carden Gillenwater to bench.

Philadelphia Athletics—Bobo Newsom nominated self to pitch season's opener for A's against Washington. Told Connie Mack in phone call from his "personal" training camp at Hartsville, S. C., "I see by the papers where some of the boys ain't been looking so good. Well, I'll be in Baltimore Sunday to work against the Orioles."

Chicago White Sox—Opened exhibition series with an 8-0 win over Detroit, rapping Art Houtteman, Les Mueller and Walter Wilson for 15 hits. Bill Dietrich, Ed Lopat and Joe Haynes held Tigers to four blows.

Hopp A Holdout

St. Louis Browns—Relief man George Caster arrived to complete roster of expected players. Game with Toledo, postponed by cold, will be played today.

St. Louis Cardinals—Johnny Hopp failed to agree to terms with President Sam Breadon. Billy Southworth said Blix Donnelly may be regular starter.

Chicago Cubs—Charlie Grimm concerned about 13 absentees as game with Reds rained out. Phil Cavarretta due for weekend series, Claude Passeau in Chicago for elbow treatment.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Pitcher Fritz Ostermueller said he would stay with club until induction date is set. New York Giants—Pitcher Bain again classified 4-F, subject to Washington review. Joe Medwick in New York for back treatment. Harry Feldman named to pitch Red Cross game against Dodgers Wednesday.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Coach Clyde Sukeforth, 42, signed player contract to help catching staff. Mike Sandlock and Les Webber report. Philadelphia Phillies—Curtis Bay slammed three hurlers for 10-6 edge. Phils picked up 14 hits, including homer by Andy Seminick.

Washington Senators—Hills Layne's pinch homer with two on helped Senators shade the Norfolk Naval Training station, 8-7. Cleveland Indians—First Baseman Mickey Rocco came to terms, due today, freeing Ed Carnett and Paul O'Dea for outfield.

"TIME SCHEDULES" FOR SPORTS ASKED BY TRACK COACHES

Request Return of Spring Football By Limiting Training Time

DUNCAN FALLS, April 5.—The Ohio Association of Track Coaches today plumped for a "time schedule" for high school sports to eliminate overlapping of track and spring football seasons.

Ed Barker, association secretary treasurer, declaring all coaches "must pull together or see their sports program pull apart at the seams," said in a letter to Ohio High School Athletic Commissioner Harold W. Emawiler:

"Our suggestion, we are certain, will arouse the opposition of a few who, selfishly and thoughtlessly, cling to the narrow-minded theory that spring football practice should be indulged in, to the entire exclusion of all other activities, from the end of basketball season to the very end of the spring semester." Spring football has been banned from OHSAA schools for two years by a vote of high school principals.

Suggests Improvement
He said a proposed schedule would provide:

Autumn football Aug. 20 to Dec. 1; basketball Dec. 1 to April 1; spring football April 1 to April 15 or 20, and track or baseball April 15 or 20 to end of the school year.

"Full consideration must be given," he added "to cross-country swimming, tennis and all other minor sports."

In cases where schools end their basketball seasons earlier, Barker continued, it was suggested by association members that spring football be moved forward, but with "a three-week minimum, with all schools being required to end spring football practice on a mutually suitable date."

Barker said George Gauthier, association president, was being asked to summon the track coaches' executive board for a special meeting with representatives of the football coaches association to discuss mutual problems.

Sport Chatter

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, April 5.—Note to sports promoters, managers, athletes and directors and others expecting to get a lot of top-flight athletes back right after the war ends:

Forget it. . . . Chick Meahan pointed out the other day in explaining why the "other" proposed football league was making a mistake by signing coaches and players in the services at fancy prices.

The Navy's announcement that athletic talent will be concentrated in combat areas for the entertainment of service men during the remainder of the war bears out Meahan's idea. . . . Then there's the remark by an officer in the Army's Special Services branch: "Athletics will become more and more important as combat becomes less."

The services won't be in any hurry to release a man who is useful to entertain enlisted men or to teach them the games they'll be playing after the fighting ends.

TRIBUTE TO WISDOM
Let's hoist one to young Ed McKeever.

A coach who is missing few bets.
Cornell's not the same.
As old Notre Dame.
But they won't have to play those cadets.

ONE-MINUTE SPORT PAGE
Tony Janiro, the Youngstown, O., lightweight, was rated a good baseball prospect before he took up boxing. Tony's bout with Humberto Zavala at St. Nick's tomorrow probably will do $14,000 at 36 tops, which explains why he didn't stick with baseball. . . . The Curlew, Ia., high school girl's basketball team, which reached the state final tournament in Des Moines, scraped the bottom of the griprow barrel to make it. The team was composed of two Seniors, a Junior, a Sophomore, a seventh-grader and a sixth-grader. The coach was the school custodian.

OBSERVATION POST
Some experts see a connection between the resignation of Jimmy Byrnes as war mobilizer and the announcement that a new baseball commissioner may be chosen within a couple of weeks. . . . In one way Jimmy is well qualified for the job. Even Judge Landis never was tougher on horse racing.

Ohio Will Open At Iowa
COLUMBUS, April 5.—Ohio State university's football team will open its 1945 season Sept. 22 at Iowa City with the Iowa Seahawks as the opposition, the athletic board announced last night.

SIXTH CITY FIGHT FANS HOLDING MAY 99 DATE WIDE OPEN

That's Day Tommy Bell, Jimmy Doyle Will Sling Leather At Arena

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 5.—Sixth city fight fans are keeping May 9 open: On that date Youngstown's welterweight pride, Tommy Bell, will push leather with Los Angeles' Jimmy Doyle who last night slam-banged to a split decision over Cleveland's Chuck Hunter.

Cleveland Promoter Bob Brickman plans to give the winner of the Bell-Doyle bout first crack at Welterweight Champion Freddie Cochrane's title this summer. The champ recently discharged from the Navy, drew an ovation when he was introduced before the fight.

Outweighed by four pounds, shorter in stature and reach than Hunter, Doyle carried the fight to the Cleveland Negro from the third round on in a battle marked by furious toe-to-toe slugging sessions.

Roles Reversed
Billed as a duel between Boxer Doyle and Puncher Hunter the roles were reversed in the fifth round. The Cleveland, who won the first two rounds and got the fourth on a low blow, opened the fifth with a vicious two-handed attack.

Doyle retreated to the ropes and crouched with both gloves in front of his face to weather the storm. Hunter finally punched himself out and the young Irishman launched a pulverizing body attack of his own that had the former national amateur champ retreating at the bell.

A crowd of 7,326 paid $19,106.30 to see the five-bout card.

In an eight-round semi-final, Le Roy Jackson, 129, failed to catch up with Baltimore's Harry Jeffra, 130, former feather and bantamweight champion for the second time in two weeks. The veteran Jeffra won a split decision.

M'GUIRE PLAYOFF INITIATED TODAY

The first in a best two out of three playoff series will be staged at the Memorial building at 4 p. m. today between Columbia st. and Fourth street of the Mickey McGuire league.

Both teams have won round championships and thereby earned their way into the league title playoffs. The second game is scheduled to be played Monday evening.

2nd Clipper Banquet Scheduled Tonight

Rev. Eugene Beach, pastor of the Youngstown Christian church, will speak tonight to the Columbiana Clippers basketball team at the second of four cage banquets planned in their honor. This affair is being given by C. R. Coppock, who annually entertains members of the Clipper Athletic teams.

Fred Detwiler, Columbiana mortician, will act as toastmaster at the affair, and Coach Cabas and principal Edgar Miller are expected to speak.

Fete Fairfield Cagers At Banquet On Friday

Fairfield school bus drivers are sponsoring a banquet at the school building Friday evening, complimentary to the basketball team and the teachers.

Uncle Sam Continues To Hit Body Blows At Baseball Clubs

First Baseman Etten Now Slated For Army, Dimming Joe McCarthy's Flag Hope

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 5.—Uncle Sam continued to shape the 1945 pennant races today as threatened loss of First Baseman Nick Etten, last year's American league home run champion, struck a body blow at the hopes of the New York Yankees.

Etten's reclassification to 1-A was hardly a surprise to Joe McCarthy. The Yank skipper had expected such tidings and planned accordingly, but coming on top of similar news on Oscar Grimes and Johnny Lindell's imminent induction, it may force considerable shuffling.

If Etten and Lindell go the Yankee power of bygone days will be a one-man act by George Stinewick, 4-F but also up for re-examination. If Grimes also goes, McCarthy will be up against it for a first sacker.

Emerson Rorer's six shutout innings in yesterday's 8-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox must have been some comfort to Marse Joe, whose title chances lean heavily on the pitching staff.

Other training camp items: Boston Red Sox—Joe Cronin impressed by ground-covering ability of Bein Steiner, shifted the rookie to shortstop. Skeeter Newsome will go to third and Jack Tobin to second.

Boston Braves—Bob Coleman having trouble finding best outfield trio of many capable performers. Arrival of Elmer Nieman sent ball-hawk Carden Gillenwater to bench.

Philadelphia Athletics—Bobby Newton nominated self to pitch season's opener for A's against Washington. Told Connie Mack in phone call from his "personal" training camp at Hartsville, S. C., "I see by the papers where some of the boys ain't been looking so good. Well, I'll be in Baltimore Sunday to work against the Orioles."

Chicago White Sox—Opened exhibition series with an 8-0 win over Detroit, rapping Art Houtteman, Les Mueller and Walter Houston for 15 hits. Bill Dietrich, Ed Lopat and Joe Haynes held Tigers to four blows.

Hopp A Holdout

St. Louis Browns—Relief man George Caster arrives to complete roster of expected players. Game with Toledo, postponed by cold, will be played today.

St. Louis Cardinals—Johnny Hopp failed to agree to terms with President Sam Breadon. Billy Southworth said Blix Donnelly may be regular starter.

Chicago Cubs—Charlie Grimm concerned about 13 absences as game with Reds rained out. Phil Cavarretta due for weekend series. Claude Passeau in Chicago for elbow treatment.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Pitcher Fritz Ostermuller said he would stay with club until induction date is set.

New York Giants—Pitcher Bain again classified 4-F, subject to Washington review. Joe Medwick in New York for back treatment. Harry Feldman named to pitch Red Cross game against Dodgers Wednesday.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Coach Clyde Sukeforth, 42, signed player contract to help coaching staff. Mike Sandlock and Lex Webber report.

Philadelphia Phillies—Curtis Bay slammed three hurriers for 10-6 edge. Phils picked up 14 hits, including homer by Andy Semick.

Washington Senators—Hills Layne's pinch homer with two on helped Senators shade the Norfolk Naval Training station, 8-7.

Cleveland Indians—First Baseman Mickey Rocco came to terms, due today, freeing Ed Carnett and Paul O'Dea for outfield.

Women Bowlers Re-elect Helen Caldwell President

President Helen Caldwell of the Salem Women's Bowling association was re-elected at a meeting of the group at the Masonic temple Tuesday night.

Other officers chosen are: Vice president, Esther Trout, secretary, Carrie Slagle; assistant secretary, Margaret Stewart; treasurer, Myrtle Hassey, and sergeant at arms, Leora Arnold.

Medals and prizes awarded in the recent city tournament were distributed.

The organization voted a contribution of various gifts to the Salem Red Cross for distribution among wounded War veterans.

SPRINGFIELD, April 5—Marine Lieut. Earl Fisher, an All-Ohio basketball player at Wittenberg college in 1943, died of wounds received on two Jima, his parents at New Philadelphia have notified the college.

"TIME SCHEDULES" FOR SPORTS ASKED BY TRACK COACHES

Request Return of Spring Football By Limiting Training Time

DUNCAN FALLS, April 5.—The Ohio Association of Track Coaches today plumped for a "time schedule" for high school sports—to eliminate overlapping of track and spring football seasons.

Ed Barker, association secretary and treasurer, declaring all coaches "must pull together or see their sports program pull apart at the seams," said in a letter to Ohio High School Athletic Commissioner Harold W. Enswiler:

"Our suggestion, we are certain, will arouse the opposition of a few who, selfishly and thoughtlessly, cling to the narrow-minded theory that spring football practice should be indulged in, to the entire exclusion of all other activities, from the end of basketball season to the very end of the spring semester." Spring football has been banned from OHSAA schools for two years by a vote of high school principals.

He said a proposed schedule would provide:

Autumn football Aug. 20 to Dec. 1; basketball Dec. 1 to April 1; spring football April 1 to April 15 or 20, and track or baseball April 15 or 20 to end of the school year.

"Full consideration must be given," he added "to cross-country swimming, tennis and all other minor sports."

In cases where schools end their basketball seasons earlier, Barker continued, it was suggested by association members that spring football be moved forward, but with "a three-week minimum, with all schools being required to end spring football practice on a mutually suitable date."

Barker said George Gauthier, association president, was being asked to summon the track coaches' executive board for a special meeting with representatives of the football coaches association to discuss mutual problems.

Sport Chatter

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Note to sports promoters, managers, athletes directors and others expecting to get a lot of top-flight athletes back right after the war ends: Forget it. Chick Meahan pointed out this other day in explaining why the "other" proposed football league was making a mistake by signing coaches and players in the services at fancy prices.

The Navy's announcement that athletic talent will be concentrated in combat areas for the entertainment of service men during the remainder of the war bears out Chick's idea. Then there's the remark by an officer in the Army's Special Services branch: "Athletics will become more and more important as combat becomes less."

The services won't be in any hurry to release a man who is useful to entertain enlisted men or to teach them the games they'll be playing after the fighting ends.

TRIBUTE TO WISDOM

Let's toast one to young Ed McKeever.

A coach who is missing few bets.

Cornell's not the same as old Notre Dame.

But they won't have to play those cadets.

ONE-MINUTE SPORT PAGE

Tony Janiro, the Youngstown, O., lightweight, was rated a good baseball prospect before he took up boxing. Tony's bout with Humberto Zavala at St. Nick's tomorrow probably will do $14,000 at 26 stops, which explains why he didn't stick with baseball. The Curlew, Ia., High school girl's basketball team, which reached the state final tournament in Des Moines, scraped the bottom of the girlpower barrel to make it. The team was composed of two Seniors, a Junior, a Sophomore and a Freshman.

The coach was the school custodian.

OBSERVATION POST

Some experts see a connection between the resignation of Jimmy Byrnes as war mobilizer and the announcement that a new baseball commissioner may be chosen within a couple of weeks. In one way Jimmy is well qualified for the job. Even Judge Landis never was tougher on horse racing.

Ohio Will Open At Iowa

COLUMBUS, April 5.—Ohio State university's football team will open its 1945 season Sept. 22 at Iowa City with the Iowa Hawkeyes as the opposition. The athletic board announced last night.

SIXTH CITY FIGHT FANS HOLDING MAY 99 DATE WIDE OPEN

That's Day Tommy Bell, Jimmy Doyle Will Sling Leather At Arena

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 5.—Sixth city fight fans are keeping May 9 open: On that date Youngstown's welterweight pride, Tommy Bell, will push leather with Los Angeles' Jimmy Doyle who last night slam-banged to a split decision over Cleveland's Chuck Hunter.

Cleveland Promoter Bob Brickman plans to give the winner of the Bell-Doyle bout first crack at Welterweight Champion Freddie Cochrane's title this summer. The champ recently discharged from the Navy, drew an ovation when he was introduced before the fight.

Outweighed by four pounds, shorter in stature and reach than Hunter, Doyle carried the fight to the Cleveland Negro from the third round on in a battle marked by furious toe-to-toe slugging sessions.

Roles Reversed
Billed as a duel between Boxer Doyle and Puncher Hunter, the roles were reversed in the fifth

M'GUIRE PLAYOFF INITIATED TODAY

"The first in a best two out of three playoff series will be staged at the Memorial building at 4 p. m. today between Columbia st. and Fourth street of the Mickey McGuire league.

Both teams have won round championships and thereby earned their way into the league title playoffs. The second game is scheduled to be played Monday evening.

Doyle retreated to the ropes and crunched with both gloves in front of his face to weather the storm. Hunter finally punched himself out and the young Irishman launched a pulverizing body attack of his own that had the former national amateur champ retreating at the bell.

A crowd of 7,326 paid $19,106.30 to see the five-bout card. In an eight-round semi-final, Le Roy Jackson, 129, failed to catch up with Baltimore's Harry Jeffra, 130, former feather and bantamweight champion for the second time in two weeks. The veteran Jeffra won a split decision.

tician, will act as toastmaster at the affair, and Coach Cabas and principal Edgar Miller are expected to speak.
